

TWO FAMOUS SYMBOLS OF CANADIAN CAPITAL.—Some of the million tulips which will bloom in Ottawa during the Canadian Tulip Festival from May 15 to 26, place the Peace Tower of the Parliament Buildings in a colorful setting. Ottawa's tulips, the largest public display of the flower on the continent, are attracting increasing thousands of visitors to the City each year. Federal District Commissioner O'Connell, who is in charge of the spectacular display, says the tulip show this year should be exceptionally good.

"Capital" now blankets M.D.

Starting with this first issue in April the "Three Hills Capital" becomes the official newspaper of the Municipality District of Keweenaw. The matter of an M.D. paper was brought up at the annual meeting of ratepayers in February and the Council was given authority to enter into an agreement with Capital Printers to provide such a service. The subscriptions will be paid for by the M.D. and the contract will be up for renewal each year.

The practice of having an official newspaper, which goes to all ratepayers, is followed by several other Municipal Districts including Stratford and Woodstock on the north and west of us. The purpose is to provide information on Municipal affairs including committee reports, Council decisions, Board Reports, official notices and other items that the Council feels are of general interest to the municipal population.

Postal regulations state that unless the newspaper subscribers are requested by the individual, a postage charge of 1 cent per copy must be made.

This added circulation brings our mailing list up to 2,000 names.

The Capital, Three Hills, Alberta Jasper Park Lodge, Canadian Rockies summer resort, has accommodation for 450 guests.

The inside margin where a book is bound is called the "gutter".

Cross-stitch art

7213

Express the artist in you with this "country" art. Perfect for any room!

Everyone will admire this beautiful, Pattern 7213: transfer of 2000 such patterns, other color, key directions.

Send thirty-five cents (includes for the pattern) (stamps cannot be used).

Household Arts Department, 60 Front Street, W., Toronto.

Talks back to the boss

When Mr. King got back into office in 1933, he proceeded to remove private shareholders from the Bank of Canada. From that day the Bank of Canada became a public institution. The Government then made the Governor a full servant. The salary is set at $100,000 a year, which is almost double that of the Prime Minister and more than double that of the Minister of Finance.

The present Governor of the Bank of Canada appears to be a full servant. A year ago he was appointed without more than ordinary interest for the reason that he was desired to have authority over the financial institutions other than chartered banks. He would have directed lending to what he called the "social desirable projects."

This year the report of the Governor came to the attention of the unimpaired public in the middle of all election campaigns.

This report has the tendency to contradict public utterances of the Prime Minister and others who were critical of what they called the "tight money policy of the previous Government."

The Governor thus tends to contradict a number that said about Ottawa a few months back that the "Bank" did not intend to permit the Government to dictate Canada's monetary policy and control its practices. The Governor says that there has not been too much money. Tight money is generally understood to reflect a situation where there isn't enough money around to satisfy every borrower's desire or need, with the result that interest rates go up quickly. In these times there could not be tight money since the central bank, the gold standard, for the supply of currency and credit is now determined solely by the manipulations of people who run central banks.

In various places the Governor's report argues that no applicant for loans who was "credit worthy" was refused a loan. But what was credit worthy in the eyes of officials of the Bank of Canada and credit worthy in the mind of the applicant for a loan are very far apart and there usually is a practical branch bank manager to believe there is a doubt that the normal lender, whose policies are in large degree controlled by the Bank of Canada, were lending with greater discrimination and restraint a year ago than they were two years ago.

It is evident that Government policy since the June election has been to ease the restrictions. The amount of perfection in a run-down of the economy, everything until unemployment had reached the stage where people would work for 50 cents an hour. Aside from the bulletin board money imposed by the government with the convulsion of government, there is the fact that the economy, the human body, needs constant nourishment. A stomach ache does not justify prescribing diet by starvation.

The Governor in his report makes it evident that he believes the policy of the Bank of Canada in 22 years has been that of "sound money" rather than tight money. Presumably he is comparing the Canadian dollar with that similar piece of paper the U.S. dollar. Canadian currencies are plentiful of other currencies from Paris to Mexico to Shanghai, which are more vestiges of what they were in 1939. But if it is 22 years of the history of the "Bank" the policy always has been one of sound money, why is it that the insurance protection a young husband and father needs today for his wife and children is so much more than it was in 1939? If we have had sound money policy, the sound has been more than adequate to the most acute case.

Interest rates have eased a little. Whether this was caused by a bank policy or a political decision is little concern. The policy should be good. If a team of horses is running away, it may be necessary to turn them to walk. But if the journey is to be accomplished in a reasonable time the horses should be allowed to go at a reasonably fast pace and not shut and killed.

Someone has pointed out that interest rates at two percent are useless if there are not borrowers. The one who has the money is the bank. A bank loan at eight percent is not necessarily evil if the borrower is a profit-making business. One bit of advice that could be given people who directly or indirectly are government employees is to be sure, subject to direction from the Government of the day, is that they refrain from publicly contradicting their bosses. In other words, one of them should never act as if he were an ambassador from a certain friendly power. The Federal Bank.

Why membership customers

The T.C.D. story began in July of 1937, in the city of Vancouver. At its organization, William Fitch, who has had wide experience as a salesman in the past decade, was named president.

The object of the new firm was to give candidates the opportunity to obtain a large range of merchandise at lower factory prices. Registered members in the T.C.D. discount club are able to receive goods direct from manufacturers and obtain supplies at drastically reduced prices through bypassing the various middlemen.

Mr. Fitch says that this is the logical development of the new enterprise, which is now being set up in Canada. A citizen buying through T.C.D. can obtain the lowest prices. The great Distributors Limited to broaden the purchasing power of the dollars. He explains that he knows the value of his wage without the inflationary method of a wage increase. The buyer's standard of living improves as he comes into the benefits to the end of the day.

The same president has succeeded in obtaining this original concept in purchasing to manufacturers. T.C.D. has made arrangements with a large number of manufacturing companies from coast to coast to obtain merchandise at factory prices. The T.C.D. catalogue offers a wide range of merchandise to club members with savings up to 50 percent—some as much as 75 percent.

Membership fees are used for the benefit of the customer in providing an ever-expanding list of savings and profits. Cataloguing every item available for the service of the customer and in building displays for the convenience of the shopper.

The "new approach" to cut the price of consumer goods to the buyer has been well received by the general public. Rural dwellers, who have always been a part of their buying through mail order, have joined the discount club in large numbers in both Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Mr. Fitch is proud of the firm's motto, which is "satisfaction or money refunded."

In order to save customers' time and operational charges all business is conducted on a cash basis.

The markup is kept at minimum. However, the company's overhead, while the membership fees are charged back into the firm or expansion. This is personal through the volume of trade handled and by keeping the job.

LATE DELIVERY
No one would believe Mary Hulse on Tuesday of last week when he told them that a certain one in his head had called that.

Mr. Hulse added the birth was a little unusual because the same day had called just 10 days previously. The real reason for looking his word, however, was the calendar.

Tuesday of last week, if you're forgetful, was April 1. The names, Tames, Alice, April, 1938.

head down. Merchandise is of the lowest quality.

During the first six months of operation, to the end of 1937, T.C.D. membership increased from 1,000 to 4,000 in Alberta alone.

320,000 worth of goods were sold. This saved the consumer some $50,000 he otherwise would have had to spend. It is the established policy of the firm to apply for membership in British Business Bureau and similar organizations in the larger centres in which it is operating. Rapidly expanding, T.C.D.'s membership had well over the 4,000 mark in Alberta alone before April, 1938.

The rapidly growing firm also has a holding with Dan and Brothers.

Trans-continental, by lowering the price on consumer goods from retail levels instead of grossing with Western Canada. Already within less than a year the firm has spread large branch offices in Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon, Regina and a mail-order office in Grande Prairie.

Sid Bristow has interesting coin collection

Another of Grenville's early residents is celebrating a birthday this week. On Friday, April 11, the Bristow will be 88 years old. Mr. Bristow has a fine collection of coins. He has been collecting since 1831. Included in the collection are such items as a Polish 1000-mark note, containing such notes, English coins dating back to 1847, an 1865 Republic of Mexico silver dollar, an 1832 Province of Nova Scotia penny, Canadian bank notes, as well as many foreign coins of the last century. Other pieces are worth more than that lettering is not readable. —The Sun, Ontario, Can.

FOR MENDING
To neatly mend a small tear or sing in a good suit, put several long threads from the inside margin of the suit itself. The mending thread allows you to make an almost invisible mend.

SAFETY MAKES SENSE

Be Extra Cautious around Moving Machinery!

Is your NAME in this week's paper?

Well, if not your name, at least the names of some of your friends and neighbors.

Not of course, because they made the headlines. Fortunately very few of us do.

But simply because you and your friends and neighbors are contributing to the useful life and progress of this area, taking part in church and school activities, visiting the sick, doing the many things which make our community a better place in which to live.

A weekly newspaper is a newspaper about and for people like you . . . reflecting the community's life . . . attempting to assist in its leadership.

It wants to work with you . . . to "let about you . . . to save."

That is the job of a good weekly newspaper and, with your help, that is what we are trying to do. Editor, reporter, rural correspondent, and advertising salesman working together.

The Local Paper
SERVES YOUR COMMUNITY FIRST

If you're found unconscious

Fainting is no longer as common as it was in the days when a lady had to prove that she was a lady by fainting at the slightest provocation. Grid nowadays are made of sterner stuff, but even occasionally there is an attack of faintness. Men, too, may become unconscious. Suppose this happens to you in a public place? What should you do as you lie there flat?

Ordinary fainting, as due to a temporary lack of sufficient blood in the brain, caused by fatigue, emotional stress, or general weakness, is not a serious condition. It may also be due to low blood sugar as a result of too long a spacing between meals.

Unconsciousness may also be due to brain hemorrhage or stroke, heart failure or coma, serious poisoning, diabetes. Diabetes who take too much insulin or too little sugar may become unconscious or disoriented as a result of insulin shock. Also sufficient insulin can result in what is known as dia-betic coma.

Acute alcoholism is frequently a considerable cause. A person who has had a few drinks and is unable to stand or walk may become unconscious from fainting, urticaria or coma, or in some cases a very nasty apparent drunk drive has been known to the help of the police station and found dead the next morning. Police are now careful to have these people taken to a hospital where they can be treated. Even if not sick as well as unconscious.

When a person is unconscious it is easier to be easy for him to know exactly how to proceed. Unconsciousness is a state of unawareness that would be difficult to enter in a conscious state. It has, therefore, been suggested that people who are unconscious should carry some kind of identifying mark.

Many people carry identification cards, generally in the form of a wallet. The diabetic associations have decided to have a small identification card in the wallet. A special wallet which is itself imprinted with the name of the association has been manufactured and has had a number of people who have been identified by the name on the card or tag tag similar to the identification tag has also been suggested.

These suggestions have merit, but some of them seem to be too much to ask. Unless the person has a wallet, it goes through the pockets of the unconscious person. It is unlikely that the identification will be discovered.

A person who is seriously allergic to serum should not be given a injection of any serum product if found unconscious. When they do not react to the serum, it is apprehensive about them. When they do not react to the serum, it is apprehensive about them. When they do not react to the serum, it is apprehensive about them.

Therefore, with his consent, it had tattooed on his right shoulder. He and his left arm the words "Allergic serum" were tattooed. This tattooing attracted a great deal of attention. He was a member of the Army and did not on one occasion prevent them from giving intravenous transfusion. He had received a relatively minor wound.

It is important that some system of identification of the possible or probable cause of unconsciousness of a given individual would be of value. The mark must be inconspicuous as not to embarrass the individual who might not wish to have everyone know his disability. The identification device must be well suited to the physical condition and first-aiders everywhere could understand it. It must be placed on the body where it can be seen by those who are looking for it, without at the same time being apparent to the casual observer.

The idea of identification for the unconscious has not yet attracted sufficient attention to be the subject of a really effective system of identification. Something which could probably be worked out between

LIKED EX STAMPEDE

Gay Eichel of Indian Head, Saskatchewan, returned recently from attending a major event at Dr. Albert, the annual "Ex Stampedo" of that area's Boy Scout Association. Mr. Eichel took part in singing, dancing, and other activities of the stampede. He was a member of the Boy Scout of that region and the Eichel's were Band, under Nelson Leland. The entertainment included chuck wagon races, flying saucer events, stunts, rodeo, and singing. Hawaiian was chanted, square dancing and polka.

All members of the band were on skates for a special number. Mr. Eichel was very much impressed not only with the quality of the entertainment, but also with the spirit of the Scout movement. He was in the Prime Adult Band.

—The News, Indian Head, Sask.

REINFORCEMENT

The small force of staff guns that have been advanced by the reinforcement for battalions. Just as between the two layers of material and proceed as usual. The reinforcement is a small force of staff guns that have been advanced by the reinforcement for battalions. Just as between the two layers of material and proceed as usual.

the medical profession, the American Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, and other agencies streamlining first aid, and the police and fire departments whose members are so often called upon to assist in emergency operations. It might also find a place in the program for civilian defense. Right now it is a very casual idea which has no basis in reality and practically no chance.

Education furnishes topic for Burnham Homemakers

Homemakers, the subject of the regular monthly meeting of the Burnham Homemakers' Club held last Wednesday evening, was the topic. The speaker was Mrs. W. W. Wood, who spoke on "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

There were many interesting ideas on the subject. It was thought, by most members, that the aim of education is to help children adjust to society. It then came a living, developing nature that is free, rational and capable of service to their country and the world as a whole.

The best way to achieve this aim would be to provide a good education and found that the nursery where a child starts its life is the most important. It is to get as much education as possible and to be able to adjust to the changing and the parents financial situation.

Miss Olson, club convener of education, gave a short talk on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

Miss Mary McIntyre who spoke on "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

Miss Olson pointed out the importance of education for the future. She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

SEASIDE PATROL—An RCMP Officer attended at the United Nations Emergency Force service over the beach and on Arch Street, near the beach. The officer was on a routine air patrol over the beach and on Arch Street, near the beach.

Postal official speaks at Home and School meeting

The regular meeting of the Home and School Association at the school was a most interesting program for the members and visitors who attended.

Miss Mary McIntyre who spoke on "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

Miss Olson pointed out the importance of education for the future. She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

LOCAL SHARERS

For some time now, we have had our eye on the $100 million fund which is being raised to create the Arch Street, near the beach. The officer was on a routine air patrol over the beach and on Arch Street, near the beach.

Postal official speaks at Home and School meeting

The regular meeting of the Home and School Association at the school was a most interesting program for the members and visitors who attended.

Miss Mary McIntyre who spoke on "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

Miss Olson pointed out the importance of education for the future. She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

Procrastination by school trustees can have dire effect

"Procrastination in any negotiations on the part of school trustees can have dire results," said the statement of the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation. The statement was made recently by Robert C. Egan, Secretary of the Federation.

Postal official speaks at Home and School meeting

The regular meeting of the Home and School Association at the school was a most interesting program for the members and visitors who attended.

Miss Mary McIntyre who spoke on "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

Miss Olson pointed out the importance of education for the future. She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

Procrastination by school trustees can have dire effect

"Procrastination in any negotiations on the part of school trustees can have dire results," said the statement of the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation. The statement was made recently by Robert C. Egan, Secretary of the Federation.

Postal official speaks at Home and School meeting

The regular meeting of the Home and School Association at the school was a most interesting program for the members and visitors who attended.

Miss Mary McIntyre who spoke on "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

Miss Olson pointed out the importance of education for the future. She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

Procrastination by school trustees can have dire effect

"Procrastination in any negotiations on the part of school trustees can have dire results," said the statement of the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation. The statement was made recently by Robert C. Egan, Secretary of the Federation.

Postal official speaks at Home and School meeting

The regular meeting of the Home and School Association at the school was a most interesting program for the members and visitors who attended.

Miss Mary McIntyre who spoke on "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

Miss Olson pointed out the importance of education for the future. She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future."

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential. She also spoke on the subject of "Education for the future." She said that the aim of education is to help our children achieve their full potential.

